

Studying Abroad was one of the best decisions I have ever made and choosing Hradec Kralove, Czech Republic made it even better. So I would like to start my story about my stay at UHK with good impressions which I received from the very first day when I arrived the dormitory at night on 4th of February 2019. Employees of dormitory are very hospitable, friendly and kind even though they did not understand English well so the Czech students tried to help us. It felt fantastic to live and study in the heart of Europe. I had a long-standing interest in the art, history and culture of Central Europe and I soon discovered that Prague was the hub of all three. I was fascinated mostly by the city's architectural variety. From Gothic church spires to communist-era blocks, each street seemed to tell its own tale from the Czech Republic's divergent past.

Perhaps above all else, the greatest pleasure was sharing my experience with other international students and getting the chance to make friends from all over the world. It did not take long to feel part of a vibrant international community, and we found no end of interesting things to do during our spare time. Prague is the capital city of Czech Republic and has many nice places to see. I have learned how to speak basic Czech, and how to understand Prague history through art and architecture. In essence, I have learned so much about Europe, European history and art, about myself, my friends and how to understand another culture.

I studied in Philosophical Faculty, institute of social work of Hradec Králové University and it is admirable having such opportunity. I have loved every part of my study. The teaching staff is very intelligent, clever and professional who transmit students their knowledge and rich experience. Our lecturers encourage us to mix, mingle and work in groups of different nationalities. Through teamwork, I have learnt more about Czech Republic and other cultures and how to adapt to them. I have met many inspiring people, discovered my true strengths and weaknesses.

Coming to Czech Republic has given me a different perspective to life and studies because of the multicultural environment and each new day presents me the opportunity to discover something new both academically and socially. I think it is necessary to develop professional knowledge and skills constantly as well as to combine it with extra education and activities. Therefore studying in Philosophical Faculty of Hradec Králové University was a great opportunity to strengthen the already acquired knowledge, gain new, and improve my skills.

It was a fun experience and I met more people that are now good friends. So this opportunity gave me many friends and I enjoyed the activities that were available. My friends at university are from around the world.

Studying abroad in Hradec Králové has been a great experience. Therefore, I am really happy to have got involved in this program and spent Summer term 2018/2019 at the Philosophical faculty in the University of Hradec Králové (UHK), Czech Republic. I think studying abroad is great and I would recommend studying in Hradec Králové to all my friends.
