A WORD FROM YOUR GUIDE

The little book you're holding in your hands right now is probably going to save you a lot of time, possibly some money, maybe earn you some good grades and it is definitely going to help you to avoid awkward situations. It's a pity that I didn't have this when I got to the university for the first time. Well, what can you do.

Welcome to the UHK Guide – paper edition! The next couple of pages can help you to survive the disarray of your first (and hopefully not the last) semester at the University of Hradec Králové. There's basic info about faculties, various contacts that will come handy, some facts about other university facilities, also tips and tricks in general.

Just keep in mind that some of the information listed here can change throughout time. You'll learn that many things in the life of a university student are relative but there is one unshakable certainty. Everything is easier with a smile on your face. And on that note, my fellow students, enjoy your stay and have a great time!

WELCOME TO CZECH REPUBLIC

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Czech Republic (Czechia) is a landlocked country located in central Europe bordered by Germany, Poland, Slovakia, and Austria. The country is divided into thirteen regions, plus the capital city and region of Prague. A lot of the land outside of urban centres is divided into irregularly shaped fields used for agriculture. The country is encased by mountains, while the inland is flat with many barley and wheat fields.

USEFUL FACTS

The barley and wheat fields mentioned above are vital for producing Czech beer. The Czech Republic has the highest beer consumption per capita of any country in the world – around 145 litres per person per year

The Czech economy is based on industry and manufacturing, especially the automotive sector: car production alone makes up to 18% of all exports and employs hundreds of thousands of people across the country.

Czech is the official language, a Slavic language that is mutually intelligible with Slovak, and roughly intelligible with Polish.

While approximately 86% of people in surrounding countries believe in God, only 29% of Czechs say the same thing. Czechs also overwhelmingly support legal abortion (84%) and the same-sex marriage (65%).

TRADITIONS

Easter

Easter is a popular spring Christian holiday celebrated by many around the world. Despite being largely non-religious, Czechs love to celebrate Easter and have many unique customs. In particular, it is traditional for men to chase women around the village and spank them softly with a whip woven from branches. In return, the women give the men decorated eggs, plum brandy, candy, and ribbons for their whips. All of this to guarantee women another healthy year and to preserve their youth and beauty.

Christmas

December 24 is the most enjoyable day of the Czech Christmas holidays. The Christmas tree is decorated with traditional Czech Christmas ornaments and preparations are made for the most festive dinner of the year. Christmas Eve is associated with many superstitions that usually relate to life, love, and the destiny that awaits in the year to come. According to one Czech custom, one is supposed to fast all day to see the "golden piglet" in the evening.

Food

Traditional Czech meal usually consists of two or more courses, starting with soup, followed by the main course. Typical Czech cuisine is very meat- and dumpling-oriented. One of the most popular dishes is beef sirloin in cream sauce (svíčková na smetaně).

For more facts about Czechia, "Czech" out the YouTube video Geography Now! Czech Republic \(Czechia\) – it is so unbelievably accurate that we even used parts of it to put together this fact sheet!

WEATHER

The climate of the Czech Republic varies from season to season – you can definitely experience all four of them here. During summer, the temperature can rise to 35 °C and it is a great time to jump into a lake or a swimming pool. Winters (December–March) can be mild or harsh with temperatures below 0 °C. That's the perfect time for skiing.

ABOUT HRADEC

Hradec Králové is a city situated at the confluence of the river Elbe and the river Orlice, approximately an hour's drive from Prague. The capital of the Hradec Králové Region, it is also known as a university town and has a population of just under 100,000. As well as your University of Hradec Králové, it is also home to the Faculties of Pharmacy and Medicine of Charles University and the Faculty of Military Health Sciences of the University of Defence. White Tower (Bílá Věž) is the dominant feature of the historical centre. You can also visit the neighbouring Cathedral of the Holy Spirit, built in the 14th century. Hradec Králové can boast not only its historical town centre, but also the unique architecture of Josef Gočár. While studying here in Hradec, you can also make use of the services of the UHK University Library, the Research Library in Hradec Králové and the Hradec Králové City Library, where you can prepare for your lessons. As we have already mentioned, Hradec Králové is a university town, so be sure you can meet many fellow students around the town. The centre offers many coffee shops, cosy pubs, teahouses and other places of interest.

They will provide you with a city public transport card and top it up for you, while you will also find pre-sales of tickets to a whole range of cultural events in Hradec. You can look up any useful information on the town in one of eight multimedia kiosks, on a public laptop, or by connecting to free Wi-Fi.

GETTING AROUND TOWN

Even though Hradec Králové is the eighth largest city in the country in terms of population, getting around is relatively easy. Thanks to its original architecture and number of parks, you can easily make your way around town on foot. But since Hradec is also the twelfth largest city in the country as regards area, it makes sense to acquire a means of transport for getting around on a daily basis. Thanks to the dense network of cycle paths, the best and the cheapest choice is to go for a bike or a scooter. These will also come in very handy for exploring the city's surroundings. The town's network of cycle paths covers approximately 72 km. You can also safely park your bike in unique bike towers located by the Main Railway Station and the Futurum shopping centre. You can download a map of the cycle routes here www.cyklohradec.cz/18/Mapy. If, for whatever reason, it is not suitable to travel by bike, by scooter or on foot, accessible and reliable public transport in the form of buses and (environmentally friendly) trolleybuses is at hand. You will find timetables and other requirements on the website of the Public Transport Company of Hradec Králové: www.dpmhk.cz. If you want to take advantage of city transport to the full, then a City Card is exactly what you need. It works as a season ticket or an electronic wallet. It can also be used as a library card at the Research Library, at the Flošna outdoor swimming pool and the Flošna wellness studio, which is open all-year-round, as well as for admission to the City Spa (aqua centre and swimming pool) and the Hradec Králové City Library. You can get a City Card at the Information Centre (Eliščino nábřeží 626), at the main building of the public transport terminus or directly from the building of the Public Transport Company at the address Pouchovská Street no. 153.

WELCOME TO UHK

FOREWORD FROM THE RECTOR

Dear international students and colleagues, allow me to warmly welcome you to “the Salon of the Republic” as Hradec Králové is nicknamed. It is a jewel among Czech towns, and I am delighted that you will have the opportunity to test this claim over the following months of your stay and studies, and to fall in love with the town just as I have done.

For some of you, the first days or weeks will certainly be a culture shock, but this is normal and logical. I hope that the famous Czech hospitality will help you to quickly change this shock into enthusiasm for Czech culture, for the atmosphere of the city and, above all, for the University of Hradec Králové.

Do not hesitate to address any questions and queries to our teachers and international coordinators, who will always be very happy and willing to give you an advice. Do not be afraid to turn to Czech students for help. Most of them have experience with studying abroad and they too can be supportive.

I hope that your studies at the University of Hradec Králové will be unforgettable and that you'll gain plenty of new knowledge and skills in the fields, which you will one day make a living in. At the same time, I believe that you will form new friendships here, many of which will last for a lifetime.

Allow me once again to sincerely welcome you to the very heart of Europe in the big family of the University of Hradec Králové.

SUPPORT SERVICES

UHK STUDENT CARD

One of the first essential things for life at the university is a UHK Student Card, which comes in the form of an ID chip card (hereinafter referred to as an ID Card). Your ID Card will give you access to a range of services and make life easier both in and outside the university. It is offered in two forms: a UHK Student Card or a UHK Student Card with an ISIC licence. Both types of ID Card work at UHK in the same way. The ID Card with an ISIC licence is also an internationally recognised Student ID Card which allows you to take advantage of many student discounts at cinemas, museums, concerts or on travels all over the world. Thanks to this card, you can use printers and photocopiers located around the university, borrow books from the university library and prove your identity when visiting study departments and taking exams, etc. Your ID card will also grant you access to university buildings, classrooms or lockers, as well as, entry to the central car park at the “Na Soutoku” university campus.

An ID Card will be issued to you at the UHK Service Centre. You will find it in the Common education facility (Building A) next to the Library. A UHK Student Card is issued for a charge of 150 CZK, while a UHK Student Card with an ISIC licence will cost you 300 CZK. Your ID Card should last you for the duration of your studies. Each subsequent year, you will simply need to renew it by buying a revalidation stamp.

LOGGING IN TO THE COMPUTER NETWORK

You will receive login details (username and password) for the UHK computer network upon registration. They are valid anywhere within the university. If you are going to study at more faculties at the same time, you will always use the same username and password. The password will expire every 90 days, you will have to set a new password. You can change your password here: www.uhk.cz/heslo.asp

If you wish to login to the computer network from a different location than the university (or the halls of residence and the university library), enter your username in the form `uhk\username`. To log in to the portal IS/STAG (stag.uhk.cz), enter the username in the simple form surmana1 (that is first 5 letters of your surname and 2 letters of your given name and digit 1). Your password is the same for accessing all mentioned systems.

STAG – ELECTRONIC STUDY MANAGEMENT AT UHK

IS/STAG is an information system designed for electronic management of the STudy AGenda at UHK, which covers functions from the admissions procedure until the award of a degree. It serves for managing study programmes, subjects, study plans and student mobility, enrolling for subjects and exams, writing assessments, recording Bachelor's and Master's dissertations, setting timetables, and many more useful functions.

It is highly appropriate to familiarise yourself with all of the functions which you are going to use in STAG at the very beginning, so that working with the programme does not keep you from your studies and other delights of student life unnecessarily.

How Do I Log in to STAG?

For students, the web portal is available at the address: stag.uhk.cz. To log in, use the same login data that you use for logging into the UHK network. The portal's main menu is horizontal. The tab you will use the most is My Studies. After clicking on this tab, a page with portlets (individual applications in a frame with a name and caption) will open under the main bar, while a list of subpages will be displayed in the left-hand column. At the beginning of your studies, use the link My Details (where you can fill in some of your contact details) and Graphical Preregistration (where you can choose subjects for a study plan and edit your timetable).

In the section Study Progress, you will then find an overview of the subjects you have enrolled for, exams completed and your timetable. You can also send a form for confirmation of studies for printing here. The applications which you will use are governed by the rules and terms of individual parts of UHK.

SELF-SERVICE PHOTOCOPYING AND PRINTING

Although we live in a digital age, you cannot get by without photocopying and printing for your studies. Not everyone can afford the luxury of their own printer, therefore a number of self-service printing centres are located around the university. As well as photocopying, these can also be used for scanning documents into e-mails and colour printing, all without the need for assistance from service centre staff. To use these services, you will need to have a valid UHK Student Card topped up with sufficient credit.

Photocopying (kopírování)

After placing your card on the printing centre's sensor, the photocopier's control panel will unlock. You can then set the photocopying options to suit your needs. After you have finished copying, do not forget to lock the device by placing your card on the sensor again until you see the instruction: placing your card! Otherwise, someone else could copy books and magazines on your account.

Printing Documents (tisk)

If you want to print documents using the print centre, you will need to send the task to a device called "Forkys Printing Centre". Before sending a task, you can use the printing options to set the means of printing (single-sided/double-sided print, etc.).

Photocopying and printing is permitted up to the amount of credit on your card. When your credit is exhausted, the device will be automatically locked. Sent printing tasks will be saved on the server for a period of five days. The task must be completed within this time, otherwise it will be automatically deleted. After the documents have been printed, the tasks are automatically deleted from the server.

TOPPING UP YOUR CARD

You can top up credit on your card at top-up points. The minimum amount of credit is 20 CZK and the maximum amount is 1,500 CZK. Amounts for photocopying and printing can be found in the Service Centre's current price list. But be careful! Only top up credit which you will use for your studies, because an unused balance on your card is non-refundable! To top up your card, we recommend primarily using the reverse cash machine, which is accessible for the duration of the building's opening hours. It is located in Building A by the rear entrance to the auditorium above the entrance to the library. Credit can also be topped up during office hours in the Service Centres of the FIM (Building J), FE (Building C), and PF (Building B) and at the UHK Service Centre (Building A).

MICROSOFT OFFICE 365

All UHK students have the opportunity to use a free MS Office 365 package. It contains, for example, the practical e-mail client Outlook and the 1,000 GB online file storage provider OneDrive. It also allows for editing documents on-line in Word or Excel, or for organising web conferences over Skype.

WI-FI CONNECTION

The internet at our university is wireless. The Wi-Fi network at UHK is connected to the international project eduroam, which is covered by the association CESNET in the Czech Republic. This project enables users to connect to a Wi-Fi network at all institutions that participate in the project.

Setting Up Client Devices

Automatic configuration for selected systems can be carried out using the tool Eduroam CAT(Configuration Assistant Tool). cat.eduroam.org.

For authentication, enter your username in the form `username@uhk.cz` (caution, this is not your e-mail) and valid password to the particular user account (the same as your password to the study system)

Connecting at University Halls of Residence

A condition for connecting to the computer network at entrances A to G is your own computer with a network card enabling connection of a UTP-5 cable to an RJ-45 connector and an operating system that supports authentication using the protocol IEEE 802.1X. The speed of the connection depends on the chosen network card and the switch used, maximum 100/1000 MBps.

You must have a valid user account in the UHK domain in order to connect. After signing the rules, you will receive instructions for setting up a network connection in Windows. If you have trouble connecting, contact the network administrator.

At reception, you also have the possibility to buy a cable for connecting to a PC and a socket. We recommend measuring the distance before your first visit to save yourself and the staff of the halls of residence time.

Wi-Fi

A Wi-Fi connection is available in the A and G Entrances. You connect to the network in the same way as in other UHK buildings (see above).

Rules for Communicating via the Computer Network

1. An e-mail address and inbox are set up for students as part of

- their network account at the beginning of their studies. An e-mail address and inbox are set up for staff upon commencing employment. Students and staff are obliged to use these addresses in mutual study and work communications.
2. Staff and students are obliged to check the content of their e-mail inbox on a regular basis and to keep their inbox in working order. Consequences resulting from potential non-receipt of information (e.g. due to an overfull inbox) shall be borne by the addressee in full.
 3. The use of vulgar and extremely emotive expressions in communications open to other users is prohibited (e-mail, chat, discussion groups, social networks, etc.)
 4. It is not permitted to use the computer network for political, religious or racial campaigning.
 5. Using electronic resources (primarily e-mail) to harass or intimidate other users is prohibited. This category also includes unauthorised distribution of chain letters or e-mails to randomly chosen addresses within the computer network. Sending unsolicited mail is prohibited.
 6. It is not allowed to misuse e-mails for advertising and other purposes serving for personal gain. The IT Centre reserves the right to systematically restrict the delivery of e-mails of an unsolicited nature (spam) and to block dangerous e-mail content (e.g. files infected with viruses will not be delivered).
 7. It is prohibited to use ICT to commit criminal offences or for activities directed against any other organisation whose computer resources are accessible via the computer network.
 8. Users of the computer network must not perform any actions which would have a negative effect on the capabilities of other users to make use of computer resources. This concerns both excessive loading of lines and operating systems, as well as excessive loading of individual computers and servers. Users are not authorised to examine or test the vulnerability of the

- system or the computer network. If it is a matter of study-related activities, it is essential to consult a CIT administrator about such activities first and to follow his/her instructions.
9. Using the internal computer network as part of cooperation with students and staff of other schools and organisations is only possible with the approval of CIT. If this concerns a long-term relationship, it is vital that you specify the exact conditions of use of the computer network, including any potential sanctions, in a contract between UHK and the organisation whose staff or students will be using the UHK computer network.
 10. For security reasons, computer network traffic is monitored. This information is used for statistical purposes and for the needs of resolving security incidents.
 11. Those who use a Wi-Fi connection on a mobile device are obliged to protect their device with an antivirus application.

UHK Service Centre

Your first steps at the university will most likely lead you to the joint UHK Service Centre (UHK SC) in the Common education facility (Building A). Immediately after enrolling for a year, you can collect your ID Card here (UHK Student Card or UHK Student Card with an ISIC Licence). If you continue studying at UHK on a follow-up Master's or PhD course, simply extend the validity of your existing ID card by purchasing a revalidation stamp. In addition to any administrative work regarding ID Cards, such as submitting an application for an ID Card, production, distribution and revalidation of ID Cards, you will also find other services provided by the UHK SC here. This primarily concerns printing services with the option of black and white and colour printing and photocopying, scanning into e-mails, topping up credit on your ID Card for printing and photocopying, changing your password and unblocking student user accounts, etc. The UHK SC also offers ring-binding, lamination of documents, burning of CDs/DVDs and, should you so require, it will help you, for instance, with problems connecting to the UHK Wi-Fi network, etc.

Other service centres are located in buildings B, C and J, though they will not necessarily provide the entire range of listed services.

Address: Building of Common Education, Hradecká 1227, (Building A, room 31190)

Phone: +420 493 331 383

Centre for Information, Counseling and Career Advice

Over the course of your studies, it can sometimes happen that you are troubled with problems of a different nature which may hinder you in your studies and which must be resolved. Even in these cases, the university's Centre for Information, Counseling and Career Advice is here to help. It is a combination of five interconnecting sections: the Contact Point and Information Service, the Social Counselling Centre, the Psychotherapeutic-Spiritual Centre, the "Augustin" Centre for Students with Specific Needs and the Career Centre.

You can turn to an advisor from the Social Counselling if you need to resolve difficult life situations. Here, you will find support and necessary information, for example, in areas of unfavourable social situations, socio-legal issues, social support, debt issues, financing your studies, accommodation, etc.

Within the scope of psychotherapeutic-spiritual support, you can take advantage of psychological counselling, for example, to help you with adapting to university study, excessive stage fright, psychological difficulties or resolving misunderstandings or conflicts with people around you. You can also make use of psychotherapy as an opportunity to work on yourself and your personal development, as well as for resolving life's dilemmas and other frequent issues such as difficulties with relationships, anxiety, depression, grief, difficult decisions and traumatic events. For mapping your priorities and resources or as support for professional or personal decision-making, you can use individual psychological diagnoses.

The halls are located in blocks of flats with typical flats - 2/3 bedrooms, a kitchen, toilet and bathroom with a bath (entrances C and D) or a shower (entrances A, B, E, F and G). Each room is equipped with two beds. The kitchens are fitted with a fridge, freezer and an electric cooker.

Parts of the hotel-type flats located at entrance A are reserved for students in part-time study programmes. Rooms in these flats are also used by university staff or guests, who travel to the university.

We offer the following services to students in our halls of residence:

- Bedding rental (included in the residence fee),
- Washing and drying clothes in the laundry room at entrance E and in 1 washing machine and dryer at the reception for hotel guests – service charged according to the price list,
- Drying clothes in the dryer at entrance E (next to the laundry room) – service free,
- Rental of a set of dishes (only a whole set can be borrowed) – service charged according to the price list,
- Iron rental – service charged according to the price list,
- As part of their free-time activities, students can play table tennis or use the sports court on the premises of the halls of residence (use of the sports court is not permitted after 10 p.m., after which night-time quiet hours must be observed).

Accommodation in Halls of Residence

Students who will be studying at UHK for the whole academic year will submit an electronic application for accommodation in two stages by deadlines set for the particular academic year in the Accommodation Schedule. You can submit an application for accommodation at the address: <http://ubytovani.uhk.cz>. Students who have been assigned a dormitory are obliged to pay a reservation deposit, which will be converted to an accommodation bond at the beginning of their stay. A residence fee in CZK applies according to the price list valid for the current year.

International students who come to study for a period shorter than an academic year will obtain accommodation in halls of residence if they are on the list of students of the faculty at which they are to study (before the academic year begins; in the course of the year, it will only be possible to accommodate students if capacity allows). These students, therefore, do not submit an electronic application and pay an accommodation bond in the sum of 2,000 CZK together with the residence fee on the day when they begin their stay, according to the daily residence fee rate and the length of their stay (in Czech crowns for the duration of their stay). Students who receive a scholarship are obliged to pay the residence fee after obtaining their scholarship, by the 3rd week after beginning their stay at the latest.

Upon arrival, students enter into an accommodation agreement for the length of their stay and pay the residence fee and bond. The accommodation bond will be returned upon departure, on condition that the student has no debts towards the halls of residence and hands over the flat/room in the condition in which he/she took it over. Otherwise, the bond is non-refundable, or will only be partially refunded. On the day of departure, the students must ask the caretaker to inspect the flat and the room. Inspections will only be carried out on workdays between 7 a.m. and 2 p.m. Students who leave at a weekend shall request an inspection on Friday. Without confirmation of the inspector, it will not be possible to request the refunding of the accommodation bond at the reception. The keys to the flat and the room shall be returned to the reception. Martina Rykrová

Students are obliged to observe the UHK Halls of Residence Rules, which are published on the UHK website and hung on the walls of the halls of residence at the reception and by every entrance.

IMPORTANT note: the accommodation period ends sooner than the semester (end of the examination period). Therefore, it is possible that you will have to look for an alternative accommodation.

LET'S HIT THE TOWN!

Museum of East Bohemia

The magnificent museum building, probably the most beautiful building in town was built between 1908 and 1912 based on a design by the founder of modern Czech architecture, Jan Kotěra. Other Czech artists also contributed to its decoration – sculptor Stanislav Sucharda and painters Jan Preisler, František Kysela and Josef Novák. The building on Eliščíno nábřeží went under refurbishing and is going to fully open in November 2019. However, the nearby Museum of the War of 1866 at Chlum is also worth visiting. The Museum of Eastern Bohemia was founded in 1880. It currently manages over 3,000,000 items belonging to archaeological, natural science and historical collections, and is the largest museum in the Hradec Králové Region. Its most valuable exhibits include the so-called belt of Queen Elizabeth Richeza of Poland, instruments from the town's torture chamber and exhibits from prehistoric times. The Museum of the 1866 War at Chlum (which maps the second largest battle of the 19th century) is also part of the museum. The museum is a significant cultural institution and its building is the town's sole national cultural monument.

White Tower

Mon - Sun, 9 a.m. - 6 p.m. (Last admission at 5 p.m.)

www.bilavez.cz

The renaissance White Tower is the city's highest point (72m). A unique view of not only Hradec Králové, but also of the distant peaks of the Krkonoše and Orlické mountains, opens up before you from its gallery. No other place in Hradec presents you with such a picture of the city and its surrounding. Its interior conceals the third largest bell in the Czech Republic, Augustin, and a unique glass model of the tower standing 3.6 metres tall. While climbing up the tower, you will be accompanied by a current thematic programme through modern audio-visual technology. Every first Saturday of a month, the tower opens to night tours, which allow you to experience the magically glowing Hradec at night.

Confluence of the Elbe and the Orlice, and Jirásek's Park

These make up one of the most picturesque spots of the city. Just a few minutes from the campus or the PF and FE buildings, you will find yourself in an oasis of greenery and flowers, in an environment which seems made for relaxation, romantic walks or wandering around at the confluence of the rivers. The park is complimented by impressive landmarks. The first of these is Church of St. Nicholas belonging to the Czech and Slovak Orthodox Church. It is made entirely from wood and was relocated from eastern Slovakia in the era of the First Czechoslovak Republic. Then, there is the charming historical hydropower plant on the Hučák weir. You can see its original technical equipment, which still works to this day, on regular excursions held every Saturday and Sunday from 2 p.m.

City Woods and Cycle Paths

One third of Hradec Králové is surrounded by woodland, presenting you with the ideal opportunity for active relaxation, whether you go for a recreational run, walk or bike ride. The woods are interwoven with a network of cycle paths, there is also a skating track, and hikers will have no problem getting to every nook and cranny. In good weather, you can go out and sit among the greenery with a picnic at sheltered fireplaces. You can also discover other parts of the city from the saddle of your two-wheeled friend; the cycle path along the Elbe to Josefov Fortress and the Baroque complex in Kuks, for example, are particularly popular.

Klicpera's Theatre

Without a doubt one of the city's most original places, its creative ensemble lifts Hradec to higher spheres. Thanks to distinguished personalities, a visit to every performance is sure to be an extraordinary experience. You will find no cheap drawcards here, no mediocre renditions and no pandering to spectators! In June, you can look forward to the superb atmosphere of the Theatre of European Regions Festival, which fills the streets of the old town with artists from a range of domestic and international theatres. University students have the option of an advantageous season ticket.

Všestary Prehistoric Archaeological Park

The pride of the university and the region! An ideal place for connecting a great experience with learning is the Prehistoric Archaeological Park in Všestary lying nearby Hradec Králové on the railway line in the direction of Jičín. The facility came about thanks to the rich experience of archaeologists from our Philosophical Faculty on the foundations of the Centre of Experimental Archaeology. Today it offers an original museum with a range of interactive elements and a replica of a neolithic settlement with dwellings, production tools and a burial site which faithfully evoke scenes from the lives of our predecessors who lived thousands of years ago. More at www.arheoparkvsestary.cz. An educational cycle route also leads to the archaeological park.

Bio Central Cinema

The Bio Central Cinema offers you the "La Película" Film Festival, its programme presents Spanish films. The selection covers a wide range of films. There is often the opportunity for Spanish native speakers to earn some extra money by helping to prepare subtitles.

SPORTING ACTIVITIES

A healthy mind in a healthy body! Suitable physical activity and a regular oxygen supply work wonders for your multi-factorial cranial organ in times of psychological stress brought on by the exam period. Even in this regard, Hradec Králové is very well equipped and absolutely everyone will be able to find a sporting activity. There is everything from the magnificent environment of the city woods, which is friendly to runners, in-line skaters, cyclists, horse riders and hikers, to the Flošna outdoor swimming pool for summer and wellness activities, a fifty-metre indoor swimming pool together with the First-Republic City Spa, a golf and mini-golf course, a shooting range, climbing walls and rope centres, a skate park, public skating at the ice arena or maintained cross-country skiing tracks. Enthusiasts of fast cars and adrenaline sports will certainly not want to miss a visit to the newly built Czech Ring race track and adrenaline zones in the Festival Park in the complex of a former military airport. On the banks of the Stříbrný rybník you will find a recreation complex offering a range of outdoor facilities and activities including a rope park, fencing, bungee jumping, running, archery and trampolining. There is a field for paintball, a volleyball court and a ping pong table, as well as kayak and pedal boat rental. The complex provides chalets with outdoor seating, a kitchen and bathroom. Another part of the complex is a natural outdoor swimming pool with a sand beach and a water slide. If you have more of a passive interest in sports, you will certainly welcome the opportunity to attend various sporting contests as a spectator. You can take in the unique atmosphere of the top Czech ice hockey league at the ice arena.

ESN BUDDY SYSTEM HK

The English word “buddy” means a good friend – someone you can rely on. ESN Buddy System HK is a non-profit volunteer student organisation whose main function is to support the idea of student mobility. As part of the ESN system, each of you will be paired with a Czech student – a buddy. Your buddy will help you deal with the problems during your first weeks in Hradec Králové, such as overcoming the language barrier, administrative requirements, or finding your bearings in the town and at the university. You can look forward to meeting plenty of new friends: fellow students from Taiwan, Turkey, Portugal, Spain, Greece, Hungary, Germany, Peru, Brazil, Mexico, Bolivia, Poland, Bulgaria, Belgium, Lithuania, Italy, Kenya, and other countries.

During the semester, you can look forward to a range of entertaining events such as organised weekend trips, sport activities, themed parties, language evenings, quiz nights, and more. Participation in the organisation is voluntary. Buddies do it in their spare time and do not receive any financial rewards or additional credits. Only those students who are genuinely interested in taking part in these events sign in the programme. They may want to improve their English or another foreign language, or they simply enjoy meeting new people and making new friends

If you have not chosen from one of the restaurants offered in this guide then you can try the canteen by the Hradecká street. The meals for students are much cheaper here. One dish can cost you around 60 CZK (2,3 EUR). Keep in mind that it is not a restaurant but a canteen that is visited by hundreds of other people every day. If you prefer to eat here ask your Czech mates or at the foreign office of your faculty.
